This used to be my playground
This used to be my childhood dream
This used to be the place I ran to
Whenever I was in need of a friend
Why did it have to end?
And why do they always say
"Don't Look Back"
Keep your head held high
Don't ask them why
Because life is short
And before you know
You're feeling old
And your heart is breaking
"Don't Hold On To The Past"
Well that's too much to ask.

This used to be my playground
This used to be my childhood dream
This used to be the place I ran to
Whenever I was in need of a friend
Why did it have to end?
And why do they always say
"No Regrets"
But I wish that you
Were here with me
Well then, there's hope yet
I can see your face
In our secret place
You're not just a memory
"Say Goodbye To Yesterday"
Those are words I'll never say

This used to be my playground
This used to be our pride and joy
This used to be the place we ran to
That no one in the world could dare destroy

This used to be our playground
This used to be our childhood dream
This used to be the place we ran to
I wish you were standing here with me

This used to be our playground
This used to be our childhood dream
This used to be the place we ran to
The best things in life are always free
Wishing you were here with me

— Theme song from A League of Their Own
By Madonna

Dedications

Mr. Whiting,
Once again you have proven to the Methuen High School Senior class that you are the "Best Man for the Job." You continued to keep your "cool" when hectic schedules conflicted with short time periods. Being the Senior class advisor, and an honorary member of the Class of '95, isn't an easy task but you handled any situation (and you never stopped smiling)! You're a terrific teacher and an even better advisor. We can never thank you enough for everything you've done for the Class of 1995.
PS. Happy Anniversary!

Mrs. Moynihan,
The Yearbook staff would be at a loss without your guidance. You came to us as a first year Yearbook advisor but you always seemed like a Pro. The Yearbook staff is always remembered but often the advisor is overlooked. In our case, we wouldn't have had a yearbook without you. You were the one to solve any outside "crisis" and keep the peace amongst the staff. Thank you for assisting us in preserving the memories of a "fantastic" senior year.

In Loving Memory:
Erik Enger (1977-1995) &
Jong Choi (1977-1995)
May they live on forever in our hearts.

Football

The 1994-95 Rangers' Football Team had a rough time with their difficult schedule, but still maintained dignity in the face of defeat. Coach Larry Klimas, with the aid of his assistant coaches, brought a young team to a stunning win over Methuen's arch-rival, the Dracut Middies. Team captains were Mike Qualter and Tim "Smitty" Smith. The team tried desperately to rebuild a fallen football dynasty, in hope that future teams will recapture the old glory of the Methuen Rangers.

Defensive player Russ Riopelle keeps a watchful eye over the opposing team. (above) Manager Jeff DeFrancisco is always willing to aid a fellow Ranger. (below)

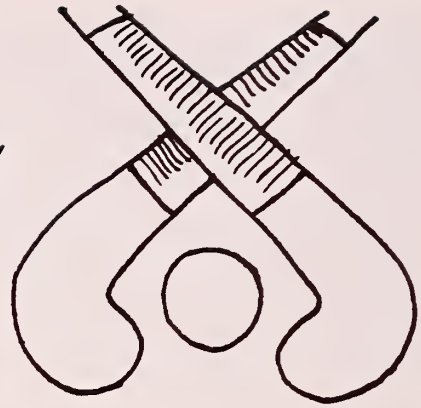
Field Hockey

The Varsity Field Hockey Team had an impressive season this year, finishing with a 13-5-1 record, and advancing to the semifinals of the state tournament. Coach Paula Picarillo, being a former player on the team, provided the drive on their path to victory. There are only good things in the future for this powerful team.



Coach Picarillo inspires the team with son insightful words of advice.

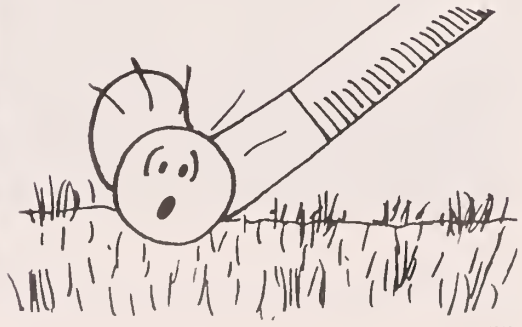
"What, me worry?" Captain Jen McCarthy prepares to play.

Nothing gets by Goalie Mel Klier . . . NOTHING!!!



Girls' Soccer

These Rangers were an unusually exceptional team, led by Coach Dean Schneider. There were no captains because no one wanted to be considered above the other players. There was no competition within the team, instead they concentrated on the field. The girls developed strong character and morals, which resulted in a very close team. They were happy for each other's accomplishments and proud that they played their best. Even in the face of defeat, they pulled together and continued to strive for excellence. This team learned the true meaning of sportsmanship: the goal in life is not how many points you make, but how you play. Go Rangers!

Boys' Soccer

"The goal of the game is to win. They won't get by me!" Co-Captain Tim Yerian runs down the field, ready to defend his net.

The Ranger boys' soccer team had a rough time this year, losing most of their games due mainly to the inexperience of the young team. Coach Francisco Narganes, with the aid of assistant coaches Tim Yerian and Mike Bolduc, taught the team that winning means trying your best. Hopefully that is a lesson that the players will hold onto for the rest of their lives.

Golf

The 1994 golf team continued to dominate the competition. Coach Karen Richardson felt that this year's outstanding performance is a sign of things to come, saying, "The season was very successful considering this was a rebuilding year . . .". Team captains Josh Rose and Mark Ruggiero lead the team to an 8-4-2 season, leaving their competition in the dust. This team has high hopes for the future.

"I am soooo GOOD!!!" Josh Rose revels in his greatness.

Swimming

The twenty-eight member girls' varsity swim team, led by coach Kara Nightingale, found it difficult to keep their heads above water this year. Viewed by many as a rebuilding year, the coaching staff looks to tomorrow's athletes to bring glory back to Methuen. Kristi Gray and Linda Baik have considerable potential, as they both won awards for their skill. With a record of 2-7, the girls held their heads as high in defeat as they would in victory, a true example of Ranger pride.

Girls' Volleyball

The Ranger girls' volleyball team had an excellent season, led by Co-Captains Kelly Kinneen and Dianne Mowatt. Under the guidance of Coach Jeanne Molloy, the girls advanced to the second round in the state tournament, losing to a tough rival, the Dracut Middies. Coach Molloy believed that the team "played well to their potential," completing the season with a 13-8 record.

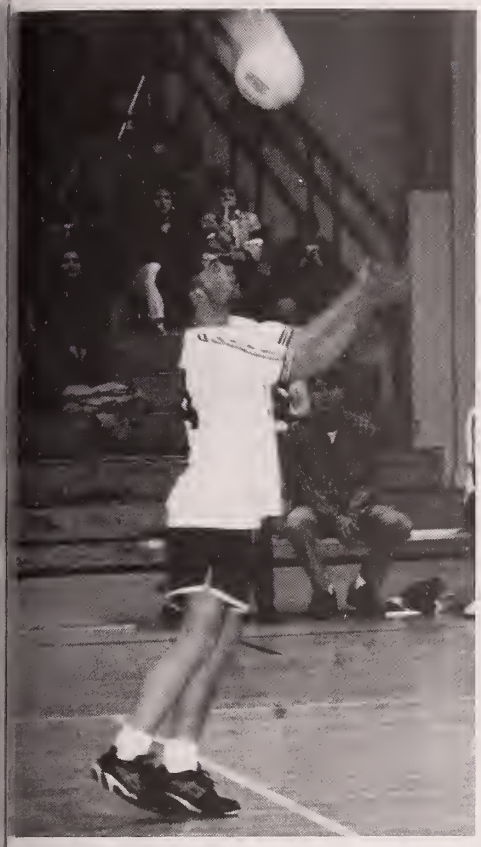
Boys' Volleyball

Coach Mark Blanchette directed the Ranger Boys' Volleyball team to an outstanding 12-6 season. Captains Mike Jutras and Tommy Greenwood encouraged a close team and led them to two victories against "unbeatable Catholic Memorial". Mike Jutras received All-Conference while Tommy Greenwood and Mike Blanchette were named All-stars.



"I got it!", Mike Jutras bumps the ball.

Tom Greenwood and Mike Jutras were captains of the Rangers.

Girls' Cross-Country

The girls' cross-country team showed great improvement since last year, ending with a 5-6 record, under the direction of Coach Brenda Clark-Wame. Captain Jamie Shamberger, who received the Coaches Award, encouraged the team to depend on and support each other during all meets. This, and the coach's ingenious "pack" strategy carried the team to its first victory over PMA in years. Senior Emily Brown joined the team for her first season and contributed a lot of talent and spirit. All-star sophomore runners Alyssa Bergeron and Jana Scalisi received Most Improved and MVP, respectively. These Rangers know how to go the distance and next year, will take it even farther.

Emily Brown keeps the pace, while Haven trails behind.

Captain Jamie Shamberger goes the distance.

Boys' Cross-Country

Coach Dennis King directed the boys' cross-country team through a difficult season. But the Rangers still managed to produce some great athletes. Max Minaya's first year was, by far, a great season, accomplishing more than anyone thought possible in one year. Captains Larry Ellis, Jeffrey Ferland, and Jason Khalil were a strong base for the raw talent and displayed positive attitudes through their strong leadership abilities.

Girls' Basketball

This season's girls' basketball team was an intensely dedicated group, devoted to each other and to their love of the game. Coach Mimi Hyde-Stott directed the Rangers to the State Tournament. The five senior captains, Michelle Dailey, Megan Stewart, Dianne Mowatt, Heather St. Louis, and Kelly Kinneen, triumphantly led the team to a 19-4 record. They had many victories, but even through the heartbreak of losing to their toughest competition, Haverhill, they still kept their hopes up and continued to play fiercely. All-Conference players were Dianne and Kelly while Jamie Cassidy, Michelle Dailey, and Erin Stewart were All-Stars.

Captains Jenn Webb, Jen Cormier, Keith Pierce and Mike Jutras united the team and encouraged their good attitude. The Rangers competed at Bradford Ski Area, racing on the modified Slalom.

Captains Larry Ellis, Jong Baik, and Jake Scott led the Rangers to a 4-4 record, with big wins against Wilmington, Billerica, N. Andover, and Haverhill.

Assistant coaches Larry Klimas and Roger Fuller have separate reactions to the team's performance.

Other stars were Linda Baik, who placed 3rd in shotput at the Class A meet, and Joy Conley, the small school All-Star in the 300m. The Coaches' Award went to Melissa Sidlick, while Jamie Decubellis received Most Improved.

Co-Captains Christine Reilly and Jenny Smith led the team along with secretary Kristin Longo and treasurer Noreen Regal.

Big wins over Central Catholic, Andover, and Division I State Champion Chelmsford were some of the highlights. Leading the way for the Rangers were Captains Dave O'Heam and Brett Cagliuso. They were chosen for the All-Conference team along with Jason Daigle, while Jeff Roukes received an All-Conference honorable mention.

Fall Cheerleading

In sun, rain, and even snow the Methuen High cheerleaders encouraged the team and pumped up the crowd. Even when the football team was down in the dumps, these spirited girls were literally flying high as Bethany Lasonde and Co-Captain Trina Tabacco were cast up into the air. The other captains were Amy Beaulieu and Jill Ouellette. The girls also participated in the annual Methuen Santa Parade. This team is so spirited, they even attended other MHS sports events to cheer their classmates in addition to cheering for the football team!

Winter Cheerleading

The team's halftime show revealed their unrelenting spirit and support of the boy's basketball team.

Throughout the hoop season, the Ranger cheerleaders gave it their all (sometimes even their voices?). The balls, as well as the girls were thrown through the air as the crowd yelled along with "Give me an M". Crowd involvement was a major concern of the squad, and with the help of signs and mega-loud voices, the gym echoed with the words of the cheers. The girls entered a competition at the end of the season and their performance made us all very proud.

She walks in beauty, like the night

And all that's best of dark and bright

Which heaven to gaudy day denies.

One shade the more, one ray the less,
Had half impaired the nameless grace
Which waves in every raven tree,
Or softly lightens serenely sweet express
How pure, how dear their dweling place.

And on that cheek, and o'ver that brow,
So soft, so calm, yet eloquent,
The smiles that win, the tints that glow,
But tell of days in goodness spent,
A mind at peace without below,
A heart whose love is innocent!

Class Day Speech

When I found out I had to give a speech on class day,
I thought to myself, what the hell am I gonna say?
I won't talk about the future, you'll be hearing plenty about that,
I'll try not to be too boring, so you won't start to chat.
I finally decided to talk about things that have happened in the past, mention a few incidents, make the memories last.
The first thing I remembered was the Milli Vanilli, people dancing, singing, and acting really silly.
The girls' basketball team's striking rendition of Pink Floyd's The Wall, and Mark Ruggiero's tribute to Michael Jackson, glove and all.
Another memorable moment of our senior year, was when the hypnotist made his annual visit, drawing great cheer.
Under hypnosis were Laurie Bolduc and Amy Boucher,
Laurie, tell us the truth, did you fake your way?
Jay Khalil surprised all with his halftime flex, taking off his shirt showing off those lebanese pecks.
The class play was a hit, though the crowds weren't large,
with Buddy and Emily leading the charge.
The Model U.N. made some of us think, government we don't need ya, especially Russ Riopelle and his own rules of procedure.
Mr. Methuen, who can forget it,
When Chris Incollingo was awarded no credit.
Not to say that Miguel's act wasn't deservin'
I mean what good is a contest if Miguel doesn't win.
The prom gave us memories that surely will last,
a night to remember when we think of then past.
And how about the flowers, florists sell those,
but wasn't Cori Miner surprised when she got Miguel's rose.
Enough of the jokes, I just have one serious thing to say,
Good luck in the future, and have fun along the way.

By Mike Grassi

1995 CLASS HISTORY

As we entered the hallowed halls of Methuen High School during the fall of 1991, little did w know that the people we were bumping into in the hallway would soon be more than classmate they would be leaders, scholars, and athletes, but most importantly, friends.

We elected Maria Anctil as President, Naomi Letendre as Vice President, Jen Cormier as Se retary, and Jenne Pierce as Treasurer to lead us through our rough and trying first year. We left o academic issues in the hands of our Senate members, so that we could concentrate on upholdir the winning traditions of Ranger sports . . . because "HUT, HUT, HUT, we give it all we go Meghan Stewart, Michelle Dailey, and Christina Tavares all earned positions on the girls' varsi basketball team, while Jeff Roukes, Brett Cagliuso, and Dave O'Hearn helped the hockey tea glide to the semifinals in the state tournament, and we aren't talking about telling the Zamboni gu he missed a spot.

Before we knew it, freshman year was over and done, without any of the anticipated cato trophes. As President, Maria Anctil and her cabinet consisting of Jen Webb, Jen Cormier, and Jam Wallace paved the way for our sophomore year. The year was highlighted by academic, athlet and disciplinary achievements. Buddy Botta, Beth Brucato, Brett Cagliuso, Dave Cianciolo, J Cormier, Maria Florio, Rachel Freeman, Mike Grassi, Mike Kam, Laura Mancini, Allyson Mill Katie Milton, Jenne Pierce, Christine Reilly, Audra Rovinski, Mark Ruggiero, Mel Russo, Jenn Smith, Tim Smith, Elaine Sturgis, Mzi Truong, and Kate Vaughan were all introduced into the N tional Honor Society.

It was also an outstanding year, athletically. Mike Qualter and Tim Smith helped the footb team attain a Super Bowl championship. Field hockey, and volleyball were still in the rebuildi years. The cross country teams gave it their best despite few particpants. The girls' indoor tra team won the small school championship while the boys just missed by one loss. The gi basketball team won the MVC, while the boys were less fortunate. However, Josh Pfeil and Mc Ruggiero were bright spots for the team. Mark Ruggiero's dazzling performances carried over baseball where he was an All-Star. Mike Grassi joined Mark as another pitcher on the team. T girls' track team was undefeated and won the MVC, as well as placing second in the Class A St Meet.

Then the pressure started to mount during junior year between SAT's, college, and the prom. decided Miguel Perez would be our new leader, along with Jen Webb as Vice President, Ed Orsini as secretary, and Amy Boucher as Treasurer. Beth Ann Bergeron, Kristin Collins, and Daly joined us in services for the National Honor Society.

Football maintained a winning record, and the golf team was a force to be reckoned wi Although the boys' volleyball team struggled, Sangsun Cho and Mike Jutras shined on the cou Field hockey qualified for the state tournament for the first time in approximately a decade. T girls' track team won the small school title for the second year in a row. The boys' tennis tea came from nowhere to obtain a 16-2 record with the help of Dave Zukofski, John Minassian, a Neil McCarthy.

The night of the prom was a memorable one. Besides the dressing up, picture taking, and dan ing, there was also the mediocre dinner and the obnoxious music. But we all moved on.

Senior year. There were no changes in our class officers, however, Katie Milton assumed t presidency of the National Honor Society. Mark Ruggiero was vice president, Beth Brucato w secretary, Jen Cormier was treasurer, and Mike Kam was historian. Dave Chiola was elected lead the "senators".

At the annual Homecoming game, Jen Webb walked away with the crown. Her court consist of Cori Miner, Sabine Zalaket, and Amy Boucher.

Although some of the records do not show it, our class possessed some of the greatest athlet Unfortunately for Tim Smith, and the rest of the football team, he missed most of the season due a knee injury. Mike Qualter was the lone Ranger All-Conference player, while Dennis Moreau, Ru Riopelle, and Jake Scott also had strong seasons. Dan Grelle capped off his career with the soc MVP for the second year in a row. Kelly Kinneen and Dianne Mowatt earned All-Conferen honors in leading the girls' volleyball team to the third round of the state tournament. Field hock ad an outstanding season, losing in the third round of the state tournament. Seniors Fara Mansour, Heather St.Louis (who broke the school scoring record), and Audra Rovinski all earned league recognition, while Cori Miner. Jen McCarthy, Jackie Potter, and Mel Klier also played important roles in the team's success.

This was a monumental year in MHS athletics. For the first time there was a girls' varsity soccer team, on which Audra Abraham participated. Emily Brown was the role model for the girls' cross country team, while Larry Ellis, Jeff Ferland, and Jason Khalil improved the boys' cross country team drastically.

Senior athletes also shined during the winter months. Brett Cagliuso broke the 100 point barrier in hockey with the help of All-Conference selection Dave O'Hearn, Jeff Roukes, Andy Petisce, Dan Morelle, Pat O'Loughlin, Billy Cantwell, Syd Cox, Bobby Dube, Steve McGibbon, Kevin Barry, and Jay Dinsmore. Captains Mark Ruggiero and Josh Pfeil led the boys' basketball team to a second place tie in the MVC, while Josh Rose picked up his game to be the Most Improved Player. It's also safe to say that their success was aided by the vivacious spirit of senior cheerleaders Amy Beaulieu, Jill Ouellette, Trina Tabacco, Liz Daly, Nicole Pelletier, and Katy Danahy. Unfortunately, the girls' basketball team couldn't quite climb over the Hillies as they ran into Haverhill again this year. Dianne Mowatt, Kelly Kinneen, Megan Stewart, Heather St.Louis, Michelle Dailey, Katie Wilton and Fara Mansour were the heart and soul of the team. Christina Tavares was welcomed back after her "vacation". The boys' track team was led by Larry Ellis, Joe Woekel, Jay Khalil, Jake Scott, and Jeff Ferland. The girls' track team could not find it in them to threepeat. Captain Audra Rovinski was an All-Conference selection for the second year in a row and won the Class A State Meet in the high jump. It was an emotional season for the gymnastics team as seniors Cori Miner, Maria Anctil, Chrissy Oliveri, Beth Brucato, and Michelle DeCoteau departed after an excellent year. Dave Chiola, Neil McCarthy, and Steve Assad were area forces in the wrestling scene. Unfortunately, a few individual seasons ended on controversial calls.

Our senior year was also highlighted by two successful bloodmobiles, in which many members of the class came together to aid the community.

The baseball season possessed a few hard-luck losses despite pitching aces Mike Grassi and Mark Ruggiero, who were both named MVC All-Stars. Outfielders Danny DiBella and Andy Petisce contributed when they could, which was more than Russ Riopelle was allowed. The softball team had a tremendous season behind the hitting of Mel Klier, Tracey Aziz, and Michelle Dailey, the fielding of Jackie Potter, Heather St. Louis, and Maggie MacLellan, and the pitching of Rachel Freedman. This year was the girls' tennis team's turn to improve under captains Jen Cormier and Tara Hebel, while the boys' team again fared well. The boys' track team showed courage and strength, acquiring a winning record. Larry Ellis stood our in the distances, along with Jeff Ferland, who should be out training for the New York City marathon. The girls' track team is still enjoying a great season. Captains Audra Rovinski and Kelly Kinneen, along with Dianne Mowatt, won their third straight conference titles and each captured individual Class A State Meet titles. Captain Jamie Pecubellis injured herself in the conference meet. Seniors Heidi Daly, Jann DeBurro, Christy Fox, Tami Shamberger, and Fara Mansour added depth to the team.

Miguel Perez strutted his way to the Mr. Methuen crown over the other extremely deserving candidates. Among them were Jay Barbieri, Buddy Botta, Chris Incollingo, Jay Khalil, Eddie Orsini, Keith Pierce, Mike Qualter, Jeff Roukes, Jay Royston, Mark Ruggiero, Alex Santiago, and Tim Smith.

The senior class play was yet another "fantastic" performance by many Oscar-deserving actors and actresses.

That just about brings us to the present. Our teachers and administrators found it fit to award us this "week-o-fun" for all the aforementioned scholastic and athletic achievements. Included was the senior awards night, the honors banquet, graduation practice, and a pizza party. It's too much for us to handle in one week.

June 2nd will close this chapter in our autobiographies and force us to move on to college or work, but for now we can relish in the memories of our wonderful accomplishments, both in academics and athletics. We take with us our life-long friendships and the ideals of a very special, very unique class.

Milli Vanilli

The 2nd Annual Milli Vanilli lip-sync contest was a complete success this year. The show was a collaboration that united students and allowed them to display their unique ideas and talented choreography while raising money for the girls' basketball team. The team opened the show with a hilarious act to Pink Floyd's "The Wall". The senior girls, led by Laurie Bolduc and Jamie Decubellis performed "Summer Lovin" from Grease while the cheerleaders stood up and demanded "Respect". Other highlights were Matt Howshan and the Beastie Boys, Doreen Famam thrashing to Nirvana, and a finale by the boys' basketball team with Vanilla Ice/Michael Jackson number. Dave Chiola took home first prize with his amusing performance of Dirty Dancing's "The Time of my Life."

Mrs. Krusell and Mrs. Levesque eagerly announced the contestants, just as the anxious giddy teen-age girls did in the crowd.

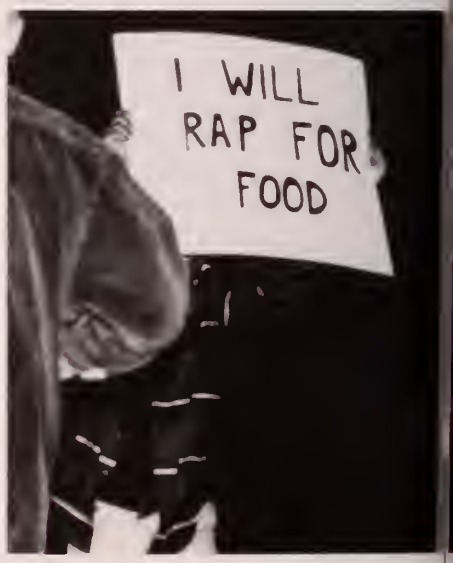
Mr. Methuen

The 3rd Annual Mr. Methuen Contest took place on May 11, 1995. The program consisted of a Legs, Talent, and Strut Competition. The Senior guys coordinated hilarious skits and creative struts that left the audience cheering for more. Dave Chiola and Jay Barbeiri placed 2nd and 1st runners up, respectively, while Miquel Perez stole the Grand Prize and the hearts of the girls in the crowd.

Dave Chiola and Laurie Boulduc sing of their "endless love."

Mark Ruggiero reaked havoc in the hearts of the girls.



What a Man!

Jay Khalil on stage . . . without a clue.

Keith Pierce beats on the drums in time to the pounding hearts of all the girls ogling him.

Jeff Roukes and pal Rocky show off their sexy legs.

Dear Elaine,

I found many of our former classmates on CNN as having been involved in the largest arrest in history. Eric Aliette, Jamie Wallace, Kim Crisante, Amanda Davita, Erica Davis, Melissa Bellandi, Bob Dube, Tim L'Italien, Sarah Ronsivalli, Heather and Lix Smith, Julie Karsmarski, Peter Rock, Matt Robitaille, Elizabeth Osgood, Jeff Grieco, Erin McCall, and Fred Riccio, who were once adamant followers of the Grateful Dead and the Violent Femmes, are now following the teachings of a rather robust gentlemen referred to as Eric the Half-a-Bee in an attempt to make the cold and unfeeling bars of the Worcester County Correctional Facility feel more homey. The repeated pleas of attorneys at law, Erika Moreno, Jodi Cavaretta, and Lisa Grogan seem to have fallen on deaf ears of Justice Mel Klier whose placard reads, "This is my court and I will do as I please: Cha-Ching!" They were granted a formal pardon by mayor Tom Spitalere and are focusing their efforts on campaigning for his re-election with running mate Jessika Palmer for the following year. Arrested on charges of driving with intent to endanger humans, plant life, large brick buildings, and shiny silver gadgets were Tracey Hutton and Quasi Dwomoh. Upon graduating from traffic school, both intend to pursue careers in the tractor-trailer industry. Arrested on charges of vandalism were Jason Miller, Maria Florio, Mzi Truong, Masumi Patel, Kris Collins, Becky Cornellier, and Shane Lemieux. The posse of sorts was arrested after a rampage of pork by-products and fire came to an end. As she was led away by baliffs Alicia Sidlik, Rachel Freedman, and Laurie McCarthy, she screamed, "It happened to me, it should happen to you, too!"

I happened to be watching the tele when I found more of our classmates. On the evening news a debate between presidential candidates Beth Bergeron, Nicole Angelone, and Tara Merrow. All promise budget reforms, increases in spending for education, and free cars to the first 100,000 votes they each receive. Making an appearance in Boston were fellow ice capaders Kristin Longo, Kelly Duggan, Noreen Regal, Jenny Smith and Christine Reilly in a touching tribute to Sesame Street entitled "Muppets in Ambiguous Relationships". On MTV were Keith Pierce, Dave Fernandez, and Eddie Orsini. Their band, "I've Got Tow Legs", is basking in the glory of their latest number one hit, "I Like Cake" off of their triple platinum album "I'm a Lumberjack and I'm Okay". They are engaging in a lifestyle encrusted in the luxuries of wine, women, song and really really big pants. Also joining the MTV schedule was the Unplugged Special "Bill Clinton and Lenny Bretton Unplugged: Sax After Dark". On Channel 7, the new talk show "Life Seems Jolly Rotten, America" is hosted by America's favorite talk duo Doreen Foucault and Keith Harb. On their show today were Kelly Kinneen, Michelle Dailey, Dianne Mowatt, Christina Tavares and Megan Stewart introducing their latest bestseller "The Meaning of Life: The Mimi Chronicles". They are currently hard at work on a sequel entitled "Stepping Over the Foul Line: The Doughnut Throwing Incident of "95" Their show replaced the one by hosts Aleen Saraceno and Miguel Perez. But not to worry for both have found work. Aleen is currently playing the role of saucy red-haired vixen Peg Bundy to Jason Khalil's Al on their hit sitcom "Put Down Your Brother, You Don't Know Where He's Been". Miguel has since joined the order of the Hare-Krishnas. If you desire to "Dig the Mig" you may do so simply by going to an airport near you. He can be easily spotted as the swami wearing the toga, a beenie, and wielding a tambourine with reckless abandon. On Channel 43 was a performance by the Cirque de Fromage, headed by lion tamer and former pirate Laura Drake Mancini. In its second ring were clowns Dan Dibella, Laurie Bolduc, and Denise Dellano, as well as trapeze artists Maria Anctil, Cori Miner, Chrissy Oliver, and Beth Brucato. Out on weekend furlough is Jay Miller in the third ring with his impersonations of former classmate Brett Cagliuso. His skits entitled "Colorado School for the Minds" and "You Scrub" are certainly crowd pleasers.

There are still those who have returned to MHS to mold the minds of the future with game show trivia, proper posture, etiquette, and Advanced Placement Calculus such as Lisa Burroughs, Amy Beaulieu, Tara Lebel, Debbie Peixoto, Joalvin Rivera, Kerry-Ann Keenan, and Kim Keating.

Former Methuenites Jodie Furey, Annie Fazio, Jody Towne, Dionne Waithe, Tiffany Cardone, Mandy Gomez, and Jackie Potter have devoted their lives to helping those who are underpoverished, less popular, and hopelessly out of style. With their tools of denim, gold lame, and self-esteem they will restore fashion sense and hope of these desperate souls. They will begin their travels with the Peace Corps on Tuesday. Well, I must be going now. Tah.

Love,
Lizzie

Dear Buddy,

June 1, 2010

Mike and I have been touring Europe this past month for our honeymoon. Our first destination was Milan where we attended a fashion show. Jen McCarthy, Jamie Decubellis, Keesha Chase, and Jill Ouellette were a hit on the runaway, as was Dave Chiolo — who's gaining a reputation as the new Fabio. They modeled clothing by top fashion designers Tara Mansour, Keyla Isabelle, and Kerri Giovanni. Their hair had been beautifully styled by Mel Willis and Shauna Clark, who have just recently opened their own salons catering to Hollywood stars.

While we were enjoying the bullfights in Madrid, we met Kristine Collins and Mel Russo, who were flirting with the matadors.

I dragged Mike to an art gallery in Paris where we were pleasantly surprised to see exhibitions featuring works by the talented Meghan Bailey, Darcy Ladd, Sean Gregoire, Michael Concepcion, Stacia Tokowicz, Maureen Hanley, Tina Fazio, and Nicole Pelletier.

In Belgium we met up with our old friend, Roel Rynders, who invited us to lunch with French ambassadors, Jessica Pearson and Jackie Mendez.

Mike and I cheered on our old friends at an international ski competition in the Alps. Jenn Cormier, Jenn Webb, Jamie Wallace, Heather Greenwood, Jeff D'Agostino, Mike Jutras, and Chris Pollock placed in every race and proudly represented the U.S.

Unfortunately, I'm not quite as good a skier as they are and had to put our trip on hold a few days while I recuperated from my skiing accident at the world-famous hospital in Geneva. I was examined by renowned doctors, Trina Tabacco, Uyen K. Le, and Allyson Miller, while nurses Kristin Perillo, Nicole Noel, Sheilla Lebron, Greta Condee, and a very pregnant Christina Tavares cared for me. While I was there, I read Roland Guyffre's new bestseller, The Frog on the Log and Matt Terry's new thriller, Decomposing Composers.

Even though I'm enjoying myself, I miss good ol' Methuen. Is it true that Ryan Carson made the front page of the Methuen Journal, of which he is now the Editor, for crashing his airplane into Peter and Amy Boylan's house? I read in the papers here that Brett Cagliuso, Jake Scott, Gina Hajjar, and Andrea Iacono entered a Holy Order, taking a solemn vow of silence and chastity . . .

Tim Smith, a.k.a. the "Red Ranger", is very popular in Europe in his new commercial with Woodsy Owl. I hear he's collaborating with Smokey the Bear in a New American tv series, too. I look forward to seeing the new episodes of Baywatch and the new generation of babes, Tanya Rule, Christie Fox, Tara Lewandowski, Amy Boucher, Tony Minnicuchi, and Dave O'Hearn. Jeff Roukes wrote me that he, Russ Riopelle, and Billy Cantwell will be seen on MTV in a tribute to Nirvana to raise money for that PBR dummy. I want to be home to see that!

Well, Buddy, that's all for now. Give my regards to Broadway!

Love,
Elaine Qualter

Dear Liz,

A lot has happened since we last saw one another. I have the leading role in Broadway's latest musical hit "Captain Fantastic". Accompanying me in this farce are Patrick Gallagher, Kate Vaughan, Jeff Hellman, Katy Danaby, Christine Rousseau, Jenn DeBurro, and Emily Brown.

As I was reclining in my easy chair with my remote in one hand and a plate of turkey slop in the other, I came upon Wrestlemania XXXXII, starring some of our former classmates. The first match was to be a tag team blowout between Neil "The Leprechaun" McCarthy, Josh "Tiny" Jordan, and Steve "Mr. Muscle" Assad against Alex "The House" Santiago, Jay "The Barbarian" Barbieri, and Jay "Motorcycle" McKay. The second fight was to be the most heated of all between Katie "The Mouth" Milton and Audra "Helga" Rovinski with special referee Captain Stupid, who is now the world's biggest superhero played by Jarrett Beeley. As I flipped through the channels, I caught the evening news just in time to see sports announcer, Jeff Defrancesco rattling off the highlights for the day. At the top of his segment was the score of 6-love in the opening match of the US Open Doubles. The incredible win by Dave Zukofski and John Minassian, under the coaching of mastermind David Cianciolo, has taken the world by storm. His next piece focused on the incredible triple overtime victory by hockey greats Kevin Barry, Syd Cox, Dan Grelle, Steve Walsh, Jay Dinsmore, Andy Petisce, Steve McGibbon, and Pat O'Loughlin at the first game ever played at the Fleet Center. The tension was broken by the astonishing skating styles of the newly formed Patriots on Ice. After finding little success on the football field, Mike Mustapha, Joe Woekel, Joe Macoul, Dennis Moreau, Jim Jutras, and Joe Kaczynski have decided to bring their talents to the ice. They will be making an appearance at a Dairy Queen near you in full costume. So be on the lookout! Also making the headlines were a group of enthusiastic runners who took the track stylings of Forrest Gump a bit too seriously. Racing across the countries of Canada, the U.S., and Mexico for the last 15 years have been Jami Shamberger, Karen Griffin, Jeff Ferland, Larry Ellis, and under the watchful eye of the marathon great, Mr. McCormick, they hope to someday bump into Forrest along their journeys. Let's pray for them, shall we? I then saw a commercial for the made for T.V. movie "Agassi and Sampers Back Again" starring Jim Shirton and Sam Bragg. Also on the television was America's number one game show "YOWZA!" with host Mike Grassi and contestants Holly Higginbottom, Stacey Suliveras, Phil Stella, and Jay Sanguedolce. I quickly tired from the tube and restored a jaunt down 7th Avenue.

I was enveloped by the throngs of eager onlookers as the Macy's Day Parade floated by. Leading the pack and waving their banners high were Stephanie Hamel and Melissa Bellavance. Following only a few paces behind in Smurf paraphernalia were band members Antony Bernabel, Michelle Michaud, and Bryant Clark. Underneath the leg of the Wonderdog float was Carrie Ann Hammman Amman-Amman who was taking a break from her usual role as an Arabian princess. My second stop along the way was into the world-renowned comedy club called Mimics. Keeping the crowd rolling in the aisles was Chris Incollingo. His skits entitles "Don't Finagle the Bagel" and "Sure I'm Wearing a Dress" were real crowd-pleasers. After catching his act, I stopped at a newsstand and many of our classmates made the headlines. On the front page were the Nobel Prize winning team of Dave Nguyen, Nik Patel, Mila and Genia Zemlyakova, Chris Thomas, and Mzi Truong. Their team headed by popular physicist, Joe DePietro, had patented a successful cure to make-pattern baldness. Also on the front page was a shootout between the local Anti-violence Organization Organization headed by Crissabelle Ovalles, Jessica Gonzales, and Connie Calvo, and the Mafia kingpin, John "Father Gino" Kennedy and sidekick, Sal Lomagno, leading the "Italian Battalion". After collecting my paper, my thoughts, and my change, I continued on my way. I was feeling hungry and decided to stop in Papa Gino's, managed by Stephanie Norris. I then proceeded to my final destination — the supermarket. In the cereal aisle was a picture of Mark Ruggiero, Josh Pfeil, Josh Rose, and the rest of the 2010 Olympic Dream Team on the cover of a Wheaties box. A cardboard standup of Audra Abraham was placed in front of the ketchup display. At the end of the check-out aisle 7 was Mike Kam bagging the forbidden fruit. He is still attempting to write his senior English research paper with the supervision of Mrs. Krusell. Well, I must be going now.

Love,
Buddy

When I am an Old Woman
I shall wear purple . . .
with a red hat which doesn't go and doesn't suit me.
And I shall spend my pension on brandy and summer gloves and stain sandals, and say we've no money for butter.
I shall sit down on the pavement when I'm tired and gobble up samples in shops and press alarm bells and run my stick along the public railings and make up for the sobriety of my youth.

I shall go out in my slippers in the rain and pick the flowers in other people's gardens and learn to spit.

You can wear terrible shirts and grow more fat and eat three pounds of sausages at a go or only break and pickle for a week and hoard pens and pencils and beermats and things in boxes.
But now we must have clothes that keep us dry and pay our rent and not swear in the street and set a good example for the children.
We must have friends to dinner and read the papers.

But maybe I ought to practice a little now?
So people who know me are not too shocked and surprised when suddenly I am old and start to wear purple.

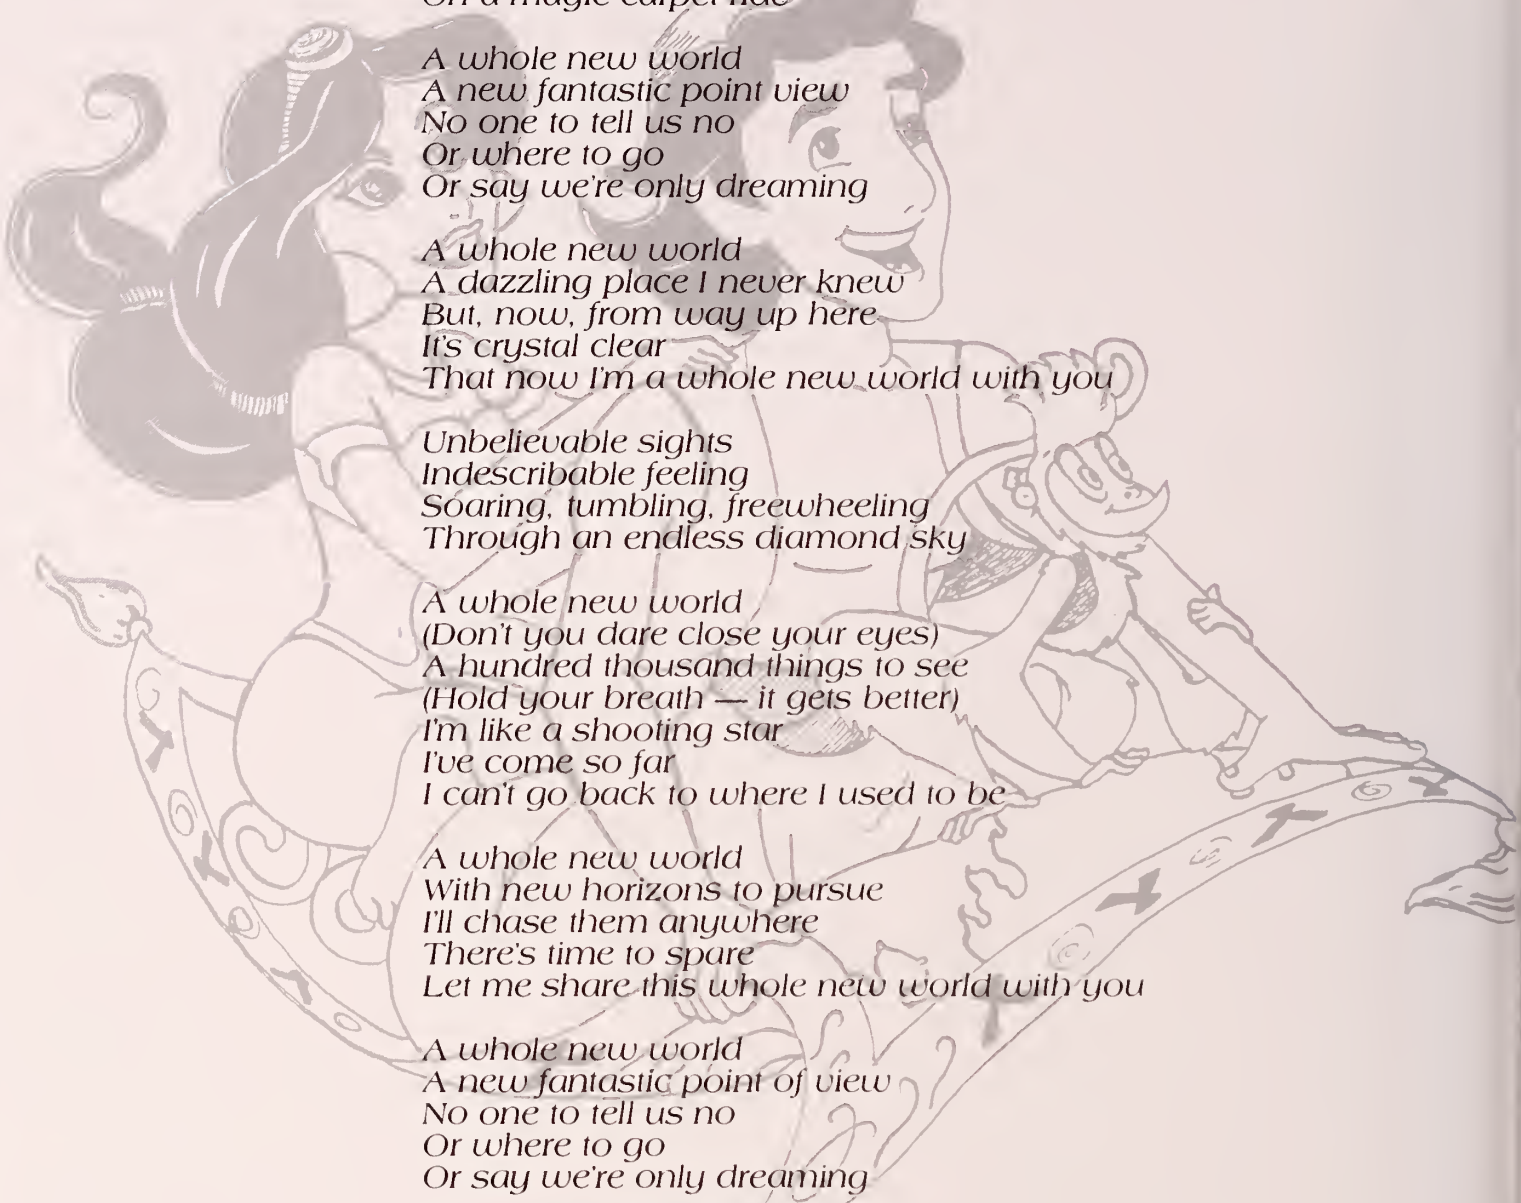
by Jenny Joseph

as read by Kelly Kinneen



I can show you the world
Shining, shimmering, splendid
Tell me princess, now when did
You last let your heart decide?

I can open your eyes
Take you wonder by wonder
Over, sideways, and under
On a magic carpet ride

A whole new world
A new fantastic point view
No one to tell us no
Or where to go
Or say we're only dreaming

A whole new world
A dazzling place I never knew
But, now, from way up here
It's crystal clear
That now I'm a whole new world with you

Unbelievable sights
Indescribable feeling
Soaring, tumbling, freewheeling
Through an endless diamond sky

A whole new world
(Don't you dare close your eyes)
A hundred thousand things to see
(Hold your breath — it gets better)
I'm like a shooting star
I've come so far
I can't go back to where I used to be

A whole new world
With new horizons to pursue
I'll chase them anywhere
There's time to spare
Let me share this whole new world with you

A whole new world
A new fantastic point of view
No one to tell us no
Or where to go
Or say we're only dreaming

A whole new world
(Every turn a surprise)
With new horizons to pursue
(Every moment red-letter)
I'll chase them anywhere
There's time to spare
Let me share this whole new world with you

A whole new world
That's where we will be
A thrilling chase
A wondrous place
For you and me.
